Class Attendance

Students must officially enroll for the courses they attend. A student cannot receive credit or a grade for a course without being enrolled.

Instructors have the right and responsibility to establish attendance policies for their courses.

Students are responsible for informing instructors about their absences from class and for completing assignments during their absence.