

MORGRIDGE COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

---

The University of Denver Morgridge College of Education is committed to preparing highly competent, socially responsible, ethical and caring professionals to promote learning in diverse settings. With a guiding commitment to excellence, our programs offer high-quality and rigorous academics with an emphasis on relevant, practical experience through field experiences, research and community-oriented projects. Through our focus on inclusiveness and innovation, we strive to create purposeful learning experiences designed to transform people and ideas.

With several regionally and nationally recognized programs, the College is known for its diverse, high quality students and alumni. The College offers certificate, master's and doctoral programs in Educational Research, Policy and Practice; Research Methods and Statistics; Library and Information Science; and School and Counseling Psychology.