

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Academic Advising at the University of Denver is a partnership between students, faculty and staff academic advisors. Academic advising is a critical part of a student's educational experience. Students are provided with information regarding course planning, major, minor and degree requirements, medical leaves of absence, leaves of absence, transfer credit, academic policies, the academic exceptions process and campus resources that are available to empower students to meet their goals. Through this partnership, students also learn how to navigate their college experience and they build new skills including time management, organization and how to study.
