AH 2580 Spectator to Citizen: Community Organizing (2 Credits)

This course is the first course of the three-course sequence, "Spectator to Citizen," offered by the Center for Community Engagement to advance Scholarship and Learning (CCESL). This sequence is designed to provide opportunities for students to develop a set of public skills and a civic knowledge base that will allow them to actively participate in the public life of their communities. This course strongly encourages students of diverse backgrounds, politics and values to learn together, and from one another, in a safe and challenging learning environment. In this course, students learn about the history of community organizing in the United States and are provided with opportunities to learn and apply public skills, collect and produce knowledge that improves communities, and develop a collaborative and collective worldview across differences. In particular, students define their self-interest and individual public lives, build consensus across multiple perspectives, become experts on a community issue, and then bring this issue back out into the community for dialogue and possibly action. Cross-listed with CUI 3987, SS 2580.

AH 2581 Spectator to Citizen: Denver Urban Issues and Policy (2 Credits)

This course is the second course of the three-course sequence, "Spectator to Citizen," offered by the Center for Community Engagement to advance Scholarship and Learning (CCESL). This sequence is designed to provide opportunities for students to develop a set of public skills and a civic knowledge base that will allow them to actively participate in the public life of their communities. This course strongly encourages students of diverse backgrounds, politics and values to learn together, and from one another, in a safe and challenging learning environment. As citizens of the City of Denver, it is our responsibility and right to investigate important issues and be involved in developing a city that better the lives of the people in our communities. We do this through a community organizing model that includes; research, immersion, and learning of the powers, structures and stakeholders necessary to live in any democratic community, here in Denver or around the globe. Students perform both traditional and community-based research necessary to understand Denver's current issues and policy. Cross-listed with CUI 3988, SS 2581.

AH 2582 Spectator to Citizen: School-Based Civic Engagement (2 Credits)

This course is the final course of the three-course sequence, "Spectator to Citizen," offered by the Center for Community Engagement to advance Scholarship and Learning (CCESL). This course provides opportunities for students to engage with a Denver Public School (or urban youth organization) in a meaningful way that will challenge students to think about how our public schools are preparing students to be effective citizens. We also examine the role that universities and communities can and should play in the education process. Students are expected to take a critical look at their own education experience and compare this experience with the education experience of those with whom the student will be working with for the quarter. This course is arranged as a 10-week community learning project. Several classes take place in the community at one of our partner schools. Classes also include group discussions and activities based on the assigned class topic and readings along with your experience in the schools. Cross-listed with AH 2582, CUI 3989, SS 2582.
