While advertising is part of marketing, it is not ALL of marketing. Peter Drucker, a very famous businessperson, describes the role of marketing in business this way: "Because the purpose of business is to create a customer, the business enterprise has two—and only two—basic functions: marketing and innovation. Marketing and innovation produce results; all the rest are costs. Marketing is the distinguishing, unique function of the business."

In our program, we will help you learn to solve marketing problems, to innovate, to think strategically, critically and creatively about the information with which you are presented, as well as to communicate your thoughts effectively. You will work in teams, you will think globally about marketing, you will be able to recognize the ethical and legal issues with which you may be confronted. You will also consider the digital opportunities available as you practice using your marketing knowledge to create value for customers, shareholders, employees, and other stakeholders of the business.

We will expect you to take responsibility for your learning by attending every class, contributing to your teams and to your class discussions, keeping your word, and reaching your goals.

Marketing is an exciting area that addresses many of the changes taking place in business-to-consumer and business-to-business environments. Our field includes digital and other media promotions including working for either clients or ad agencies, planning social and mobile campaigns, and analyzing the results of your work. We prepare you to go into business-to-business sales or to be part of a global marketing organization, to work in supply chain management or in services marketing. Our internship program is one of the best in the college. You will have many opportunities available to secure at least one internship over the course of your studies. Students have found that the experience gained through the internship process has helped them better understand classroom discussion topics.

Along with the required major courses of consumer behavior, business-to-business marketing, marketing research, international marketing and integrated marketing strategy, you will take four electives chosen from a very broad selection of courses.

Courses

MKTG 2010 Survey in Marketing (4 Credits)
Students develop the ability to make preliminary decisions regarding marketing feasibility of a new venture based on business and consumer research information. Prerequisites: Business minors only, at least sophomore standing, LGST 2000.

MKTG 2800 Introduction to Marketing (4 Credits)
Marketing is, at its core, the interface a company has with its customers, and what could be more important in business? This introductory course is a must for any business professional, and anyone seeking to be a savvy consumer or to learn about promoting oneself. It is a challenging, hands-on course with an integrated approach to learning the basic fundamentals of the subject. It develops a student’s ability to make sound planning decisions using real information from the external environment to determine market feasibility for a real product. The course has a segmented approach, allowing students to practice application of important concepts in the classroom and engage in teamwork. The segments build upon one another to allow students to create a complete and logically reasoned marketing plan for their chosen product. In team, students prepare a written report and deliver an oral presentation about their product. Prerequisite: degree checkpoint 1.

MKTG 2910 Consumer Behavior (4 Credits)
What’s the real reason some consumers want a big SUV? Maybe it’s not for offroading after all! This course is a fascinating look at why consumers buy what they do, and there is often more than meets the eye. CB uses frameworks from psychology and other disciplines to describe how consumers learn and how they make decisions about their purchases. The course also delves deeper into consumer demographic and psychographic characteristics and all of these concepts are then integrated and applied to designing appropriate marketing strategies for different segments. Students have an excellent opportunity to learn more about the human mind and practical applications for marketing efforts. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 2920 Business-to-Business Marketing (4 Credits)
Ever wonder how the food you eat and the clothes you wear arrive at your favorite stores? While business-to-consumer (B2C) marketing may be more familiar to many of us, nearly 75% of all marketing positions in the U.S. and around the globe are in the B2B sector. This calls for unique marketing techniques in approaching and building relationships with organizational customers, the dynamics of which are explored and discussed in this class. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 2930 Methods of Marketing Research (4 Credits)
The modern marketing department is held just as responsible for the dollars it spends as any other business function. To be efficient, marketing professionals must learn to gather the information they need to make evidence-based decisions, understand current and potential target markets, and even generate new ideas. This course covers methods of collecting and analyzing market-related data. In addition to learning basic research concepts, students design their own surveys, collect data, conduct data analysis in Excel, and present results. Class activities in recent quarters have included a live focus group with the clothing retailer, Sport Couture and as a guest speaker, VP of research from Media News Group. The useful aspects of handling data in this course add essential elements to a student’s toolkit for professional practice. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800, STAT 1400, INFO 1020, and degree checkpoint 2.

MKTG 2945 Global Product Innovation (4 Credits)
In this course, students learn how products are introduced and managed including developing an understanding of the product innovation process. Companies exist, thrive and prosper by delivering products and services to their customers. As customer needs and desires change and competitive offerings make product selection more difficult, companies must develop products and services that most closely match customer requirements at a maximized speed to market. This course provides students with principles, philosophies, concepts, techniques, processes and models of new product management, and also with the practical aspects of how to analyze and manage new product development issues and situations in the turbulent environments facing business organizations. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 2992 Directed Study (1-4 Credits)

MKTG 3110 Personal Selling (4 Credits)
Do you want to have multiple job offers when you graduate? Studies suggest that students who embrace sales as a professional career are in greater demand than any other type of job. This course explores personal selling as an integral part of the promotional mix and an extension of the marketing concept. Students learn how to create value for customers by producing and presenting a consultative sales strategy. The course work includes opportunities to put theory into action through a series of team challenges that enable students to hone individual selling and presentation skills. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 3360 Global Transportation Systems (4 Credits)
Managing a global supply chain involves applying increased discipline to a process with many parts. The key parts of the supply chain over which a company has the least control are the transportation carriers that connect a company with its customers and suppliers in all parts of the world. Global Transportation Systems covers the various modes of transportation including ocean vessel, barge, railroads, truck and air freight. The course touches on the operating characteristics, service, infrastructure, sustainability, ownership, finances, prices and each mode’s place in the global supply chain both across borders and domestically in several target countries including the U.S. In addition Global Transportation Systems provides students with an understanding of how public policy affects transportation infrastructure investment, security, cost and service around the world. Cross listed with MKTG 4360. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.
MKTG 3370 Logistics Management (4 Credits)
Of the four Ps (product, price, promotion, and place), MKTG 3370 explores the “place” in a firm’s marketing efforts to gain sustainable competitive advantage. Marketing channels are the routes to market used to sell every product and service that consumers and business buyers purchase everywhere in the world. Logistics is the other half; delivering the right product at the right time to the right place in the right quantities to keep satisfied loyal customers, a crucial element in making the sale. In this course, students learn the design of marketing channels to deliver sustainable competitive advantage while building channel power and managing channel conflict. Sound strategic and tactical channel decisions are taught via an on-line computer simulation. Logistics design and execution includes best practices for demand management, order management, customer service, inventory strategy, transportation, and distribution, all of which are taught through lecture, hands-on exercises, and case studies of the world’s best supply chains. Cross listed with MKTG 4370. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 3375 Strategic Sourcing (4 Credits)
Current businesses face relentless pressure to provide additional value in an ever more competitive world. Globalization of world markets has reconfigured supply networks across the globe, causing increasing complexities and challenges in sourcing. In this course, the student learns about the strategic sourcing process, from the development of a sourcing strategy to establishing, managing, and optimizing the firm’s supply base. A framework for aligning corporate, business unit and functional department objectives with a sourcing strategy for each commodity purchased by the firm will be presented, along with spend analysis, portfolio analysis, and other best practices for improving a firm’s cost and financial performance through improved supply chain performance. Cross listed with MKTG 4375. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and DCB checkpoint 2 completed.

MKTG 3380 Supply Chain Management (4 Credits)
Today’s economy of globally sourced manufacturing, developing markets, synchronized e-commerce, international trade lanes, and intertwined economies demand supply chains of global reach to bring goods and services from around the world to local stores or even the consumer’s front door. This course addresses the challenges and illustrates the tools required to build, maintain, and expand global supply chains. The course develops the ability to make sound strategic, tactical, and operational supply chain decisions via an on-line simulation tool, and superior supply chain design and performance is taught through in-depth case studies from the world’s top 25 supply chains. Students connect improvements in supply chain design and performance to the financial performance of a firm. Cross listed with MKTG 4380. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800, degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 3400 Introduction to Advertising (4 Credits)
Tap into your creativity and get some practical experience with this popular and omnipresent form of promotion! This exciting and dynamic course is intended to give the student a firm understanding of the principles and practice of advertising. It includes an introduction to advertising agency operations, and the many department functions. With “agency” team members, the student creates an advertising campaign, from strategy brief to execution, and present the work to an actual client. The real-life aspect of this course creates a memorable and very useful experience for undergraduate students. Recent clients for student projects have included McDonald’s and Eldora Mountain Resort. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 3415 Integrated Marketing Communication (4 Credits)
Students learn how to integrate marketing messages across media by using brand management as the foundation of creating effective marketing communications. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 3425 Brand Management (4 Credits)
Students learn the elements of brand management based on the consumer-based brand equity model, including a deep understanding of the “design and implementation of marketing programs and activities to build, measure, and manage brand equity.” (Keller 2008, p.xv). Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 3450 Advertising Media Strategy (4 Credits)
This is not your grandparents’ media landscape, or even your parents’ for that matter! And it is no simple task to reach today’s consumer with advertising. The world of media is ever changing; with the digital revolution, media planners and buyers face more challenges than ever. In this course, students learn the process of advertising media planning and the role it plays in campaign development. The course provides students an opportunity to create a media plan and creative materials and present them to a “real world” client. Recent clients for student projects have included General Motors (Cadillac) and Altitude Sports. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 3460 Advertising Creative Strategy (4 Credits)
This popular course provides an opportunity to go even further with advertising concepts and strategy. This course is designed to let the student experience the life of an ad agency team member. Students learn what it takes to collaborate with a team in creating brand-building, power ideas, and are given a campaign assignment by a “real world” client. Students work from strategy brief to execution, and present the ideas to the group, at times individually, and at times as a team. The course includes evaluation of one’s own work and that of others, application of theories about the presentation of information and images, and strengthening of presentation skills. The student’s work in developing a creative campaign should be based on past learning about advertising as well as class lectures and handouts. Creativity is emphasized in all tasks, from ad design through media selection to presentations. Recent clients for student projects include Nestle, Purina, and Leo Burnett USA. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800, MKTG 3400 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 3470 Public Relations (4 Credits)
Public relations require research and planning to achieve organizational communication objectives within and across target communities. Prerequisite: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.
MKTG 3475 Mobile Marketing (4 Credits)
Smartphone adoption is forcing companies to adapt to a new customer/business paradigm. From Mobile Commerce to Location-based Services, Mobile Marketing is an essential component and focuses on how to utilize these emerging behaviors. This course has graduates and undergraduates creating mobile marketing plans/campaigns for local real-world clients. This fast-paced course is open to anyone who wants to learn more about this evolving discipline. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and degree checkpoint two or marketing minor.

MKTG 3480 Introduction to Digital Marketing (4 Credits)
Students typically see the importance of new digital technologies in their own lives, and businesses too much now connect with customers and other business through digital channels and adjust their marketing mix in order to succeed. This course provides the knowledge and skills to plan and implement a digital marketing strategy, create and manage digital marketing campaigns, and select and use the most effective tools and technologies to achieve the business’s objectives. Students learn how to successfully integrate online tools including search engine optimization, pay-per-click advertising, email marketing, blogs, viral marketing, social media, and online PR within the overall marketing mix. In addition, students study the similarities and differences covering the mix of elements in traditional and digital marketing, along with other topics such as customer relationship marketing, permission and consumer concerns around privacy, trust, and security. Marketers with expertise in digital marketing are an invaluable asset to any organization as emerging technology continues to force organizations to adapt in order to excel in the digital age. Guest speakers have included best in class online retailers like Sierra Trading Post and Gaiam. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and DCB checkpoint two or marketing minor.

MKTG 3485 Search Engine Marketing: Google Analytics & AdWords (4 Credits)
The digital marketing ecosystem has hundreds of tools that marketers can utilize to increase revenue, reduce operational costs and develop brands with depth. This course teaches you how to use the most essential of those tools; Google Analytics and Google AdWords. Our goal is to enable students to earn the individual certification for Google Analytics and Google AdWords. By partnering with businesses, students gain access to real world data. This course is fast-paced and helps connect the dots between marketing endeavors and their impact on business. Prerequisites: DCB checkpoint 2 or marketing minor.

MKTG 3490 Social Media Marketing (4 Credits)
Social media marketing is an evolving field with consumers driving the changes marketers are seeing. Based on your business model, social media may be more than just distribution and prosumers may be a part of your long-term business strategy. This class illuminates the increasing importance of social media as it relates to consumer behavior and the purchase cycle. This course also develops a strategic model for a diverse range of businesses (B2B, B2C, Product, Service, Online, Online with Brick and Mortar) that empowers students as a marketer to determine their best strategy. Cross listed with MKTG 4815. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800.

MKTG 3495 Tech in Marketing: Design Tools and Digital Foundations (4 Credits)
We will be learning how to use HTML, CSS, Adobe Photoshop, and Adobe Illustrator.

MKTG 3560 International Marketing (4 Credits)
The shrinking planet and constant pressure to maintain a firm’s growth mean that global marketing continues to grow in importance. This course introduces the various economic, social, cultural, political, and legal dimensions of international marketing from conceptual, methodological and application perspectives, and emphasizes how these international environmental factors should affect, and can be integrated into, marketing programs and strategies. This course provides students with methods for analyzing world markets and their respective consumers and environments, and to equip students with the skills in developing and implementing marketing strategies and decision making in international context. It is designed based on a combination of lectures and discussions of relevant concepts, case analyses of real global marketing issues, videos and readings from the business press, country snapshots, and a group research project in which student teams launch a discrete product in a foreign country of their choice. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and Daniels UG Checkpoint 2 1 or Marketing Minor Non-Business 2 1.

MKTG 3560 Services Marketing (4 Credits)
The unique challenges of selling the “invisible” characteristics inherent to services marketing are identified and addressed in this course. Students investigate customer requirements, alignment of service design and standards, service failure and recovery strategies, and the complexity of long-term customer relationships relevant to profit and non-profit service organizations. Because of the difficulty in describing and depicting service development, students design a service blueprint that serves as an innovative tool in the strategic process. Recent guest speakers have included Brian Jensen, Senior Vice President of FirstBank Data Corporation and Eric McGough, Managing Director of Northwestern Mutual Financial Network. Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and Daniels UG Checkpoint 2 1 or Marketing Minor Non-Business 2 1.

MKTG 3565 Innovation Strategies (4 Credits)
This course is a fresh and dynamic course, which both challenges and leverages traditional marketing thinking in new and creative ways. Students read a variety of pieces from contemporary thought-leaders in the world of business, marketing, philosophy, and education to give context and perspective to innovative thinking and ideation techniques which are relevant and necessary for today’s marketing leaders. Hands-on activities, reality-based projects, and interactive debates are the hallmarks of this course. Recent guest speakers have included William Espey (CMO, Chipotle), Justin Breseler (VP Marketing, Visit Denver) and recent alumni. One past Innovation Strategies student recently said, “After going through this intellectually stimulating class marketing no longer feels like consumer manipulation but rather it feels like strategy, design, and solutions that can come together and make culture and business better – it is really important.”Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and Daniels UG Checkpoint 2 1 or Marketing Minor Non-Business 2 1.
MKTG 3660 Sports & Entertainment Marketing (4 Credits)
There are few products about which consumers are more passionate than their sports and entertainment expenditures, so this topic is always an exciting one in marketing. This course provides an in-depth look at the processes and practices of marketing sports, concerts, film and other entertainment. The course emphasizes the practical use of advertising, promotion and public relations in creating athlete or entertainer images, providing a quality fan experience, promoting sponsorships or driving event ticket sales. Cross listed with MKTG 4660. Prerequisite: MKTG 2800 and Daniels UG Checkpoint 2 1 or Marketing Minor Non-Business 2 1.

MKTG 3705 Topics in Marketing (1-4 Credits)
Prerequisites: MKTG 2800 and Daniels UG Checkpoint 2 1 or Marketing Minor Non-Business 2 1.

MKTG 3950 Integrative Marketing Strategy (4 Credits)
You may have heard the saying that “The journey is as important as the destination.” In organizations the corollary is the strategic planning is as important as the plan. As a result, the planning process has become increasingly important for all business functions (e.g., production, accounting, R & D, marketing). The objective of this course is to enable students to utilize a rigorous planning process to develop marketing programs. This activity involves integrated problem solving using concepts, theories and primary and secondary information, and is characterized by logical use of facts leading to alternatives, which in turn lead to solutions. By the end of the course students should be able to develop effective marketing programs, and to understand the applications and limitations of the principal planning tools a marketing manager has at his/her disposal. This course needs to be taken within 2 quarters of graduation. Prerequisites: MKTG 2910, MKTG 2920, MKTG 2930, and Daniels UG Checkpoint 2 1.

MKTG 3980 Marketing Internship (1-8 Credits)
We learn by doing. That’s what a marketing internship at Daniels is all about. Recent studies show that one to three internships on a resume go a long way towards landing that first job in marketing. At Daniels, we network with some of the top marketers in Denver and across the U.S. Our marketing students have worked at National CineMedia, Integer Advertising, Bank of America, Enterprise, Northwestern Mutual Insurance, eBags, Crispin-Porter + Bogusky, Einstein’s, Johns Manville, Ski Magazine, the Pepsi Center, 15 Million Elephants, Flextronics, Merrill Lynch, Dish Network, AEG Live, Altitude Sports & Entertainment, and the list goes on. Not only will students earn school credit, but also they may very well land a paid internship and eventually a full-time job. Course requirements include an internship report that covers the students’ experience on the job, a study of the industry, and what they learned from their company. It’s a win-win course where students put into practice the marketing concepts they have learned at DU, and discover new marketing tactics from their company co-workers. “Thanks to the University of Denver for fostering this partnership and providing such great students” (NCM Media Networks). Prerequisites: marketing major and instructor’s permission.

MKTG 3991 Independent Study (1-10 Credits)
Independent research/study; requires written report. Restricted to marketing majors. Prerequisites: degree checkpoint 2, marketing major and instructor's permission.

MKTG 3992 Directed Study (1-4 Credits)

MKTG 4845 Tech in Marketing: Design Tools and Digital Foundations (4 Credits)
We will be learning how to use HTML, CSS, Adobe Photoshop and Adobe Illustrator.
